COUNTY FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

Weather Somewhat Off Color But Crowds Attended, Exhibits Were » Fine and Racing Was Superb.

Great was the sixty-third annual fair of the Mahoning County Agricultural Society held in Canfield Tuesday, Wed-nesday and Thursday. The first day was devoted to receiving and placing exhibits and department managers had a busy time of it.

Wednesday, the first big day, the weather was threatening and no doubt many people were kept away. But crowds came anyhow, every sort of vehicle lining all roads leading to Canfield. Regular Erie trains, and two specials from Youngstown, brought Rain came, too, hundreds of people. Rain came, too, in the forenoon, but the clouds soon ifted and the remainder of the day was ideal. There were never so many au-tomobiles on the grounds. Estimates placed the crowd at from 15,000 to 18,-000. Thursday morning rain came early, killing the dust, but the trouble was, it kept coming in showers during the entire day. The crowd was large, however, despite weather conditions.

Music Wednesday was furnished by the Parmalee Boys' band of Youngstown and the Canfield band delighted the multitude with its selections.

the multitude with its selections Thurs As usual, gamblers, pickpockets and bootleggers got busy at every opportun-ity but special uniformed police and plain clothes men were constantly on the siert to protect the crowd.

In the main the crowd was orderly and few arrests were necessary. There were many attractions, on the grounds and the people seemed to en by them.

Some of the halls were not so well filled as usual, but in the main the exhibit was good. In the main hall the leading mercantile firms represented were the Strouss-Hirshberg Co., and Hartzells of Youngstown, Albert Hayes, A. W. Jones and W. G. Fawcett of Salem, Olin & Son, of Kent, and F. A. Morris of Canfield. The Methodist ladies had a pretty booth. There was a fine display of plants and flowers by Frank Knauf and M. C. Clay.

There was a fine show of horses, cattle, sheep and swine. The poultry ex-hibit was the largest and best ever at the fair. The display of farm machinery was large and commanded much at-The board of fair managers worked hard to make the sixty-third annual meeting a success and their efforts were The dining hall in charge of the M E. Church did a big business and excellent meals were served. The Normal college booth in charge of energetic ladies was liberally patronized, the receipts amounting to $160. The booth conducted by ladies to raise funds for the county home for aged women was also well patronized. The stock parade at noon Thursday, headed by the Canfield band, was fine and attracted much attention and favrable comment. Friday morning the board began pay-ing bills incurred by the fair, and this means the distribution of a large sum f money.

As usual, great interest centered in the races each afternoon. There was a fine field of horses. J. H. Ruhlman of Youngstown was starting judge and gave the best of satisfaction. Wednesday weather conditions were ideal and the sport was fine. Thursday rain interfered and it was necessary to call the races off for an hour after one heat had Showers continued, making the track heavy. Despite this fact the time was fast in nearly every race and the card was finished long before sunset. Following is the summary :

Death in Austintown.

Margaret Reed of Austintown died Sept. Il at the residence of Chas. W. Russell, aged 84 years. Deceased was held in high esteem, as was shown by the beautiful floral offerings, which were highly appreciated by her friends. Margaret, farewell; ere long we, too, will pass the gate that never outward flings, where we hope to meet and greet thee, not with pale hands clasping the frail flowers of earth but with that strength and beauty that belongs to a life immortal.

There are just grounds for a vigorous kick on the part of Washingtonville people against the Eric railroad service during the Canfield fair, and not only this year but in past years as well. The regular cars were filled before leaving Lectonia, and three coach loads from this place were compelled to stand all the way to the fair grounds. In the name of mothers and infants we protest against this being repeated next year.

Watch This Space! It belongs to T. D. CARPENTER,

SCIENTIFIC OPTICIAN. The fact that I have fitted a great many speciacles and eye-glasses where the Specialist and the Traveling Optician have falled will certainly justify me in asking for your patronage. The traveling man does not contribute to the support of our town. Why not spend your money town. Why not spend your money here, and you can get better service
